

We love it when our industry partners support us in lots of different ways.

Recently a number of students had a one week opportunity of work experience in a workplace related to a future career plan they may have.

Australian Laboratory Services kindly supported Eliza for her work experience week.

Eliza had the opportunity to work in the Microbiology Laboratory where she prepared the samples to be analysed for E.coli and Coliforms in water. She also read the samples in the trays prepared the day previous. This was done by observing under the UV light to see if any E.coli/Coliforms had been detected.

Once again we would like to thank ALS for their ongoing support of our students.
